

Gus Gantzer

Electrical Safety Consultant

Gus Gantzer is a licensed electrician with more than 25 years of experience in the oil industry and the Air National Guard. He was a safety consultant at the North Dakota Safety Council in Bismarck. As electrical foreman at Bakken Oil Field, he was responsible for overseeing all projects and ensuring that safety codes and standards were met. He was also responsible for the entire electrical safety training program.

At Bakken he developed and implemented the company's JSA and Lockout/Tagout programs and installed all automation controls systems. During eight years at the Air National Guard, he oversaw safety training and safety regulation enforcement.

Career Highlights

e-Hazard 2018-Present
Electrical Safety Instructor/Consultant

North Dakota Safety Council 2016-2018
Safety Consultant

- Assisted with the development and implementation of the electrical safety program
- Instructor for Workplace and Home & Community Safety courses
- Trained employers and employees on Lift Truck Operator Safety and Refinery Safety Orientation
- Developed the Electrical Safety Program for the NDSC

AH, Inc 2012-2015
Electrical Foreman

- Oversaw all projects, including supervising employees, scheduling employees, and directing work assignments
- Responsible for all on-site contractors, equipment, parts, supplies, and ordering materials
- Ensured all safety codes and standards were enforced

IBEW Local #714 1991-2002
Journeyman Electrician

- Commercial and industrial construction at power houses, refineries, pump stations, gas plants, and chemical plants
- Attended safety trainings and Implemented best practices in the field

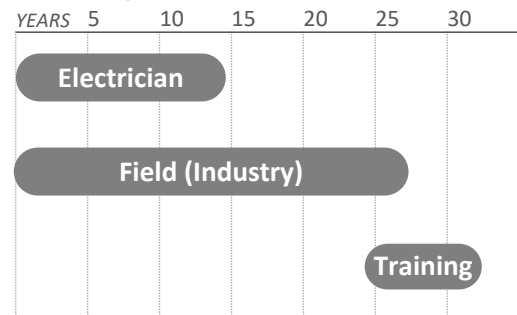

Snapshot

Focus

TRAINING

- Low Voltage
- High Voltage
- Train the Trainer
- Electric Vehicle (EV)

Career Experience Timeline

Education, Certifications & Licenses

Moorhead Technical College, Moorhead, MN

Construction Electricity

Minot State University, Minot, North Dakota

Aeronautical Engineering

IBEW Apprenticeship Program, Minot, North Dakota

Journeyman Electrician

Licensed Journeyman Electrician, North Dakota