

Jason Bancroft

Electrical Safety Consultant

Jason has more than 15 years' successful experience in many aspects of working with electrical systems. He has developed plans, conducted audits and variance analyses, conducted estimates for electrical industry for several years. He is especially good in troubleshooting.

Enforced and upheld company polices for risk management standpoint. Electrical safety training (NFPA 70E) since 2004 to electrical and maintenance staff.

Career Highlights

e-Hazard 2023- Present

Electrical Safety Consultant

Bell (Materne North America) 2022- Present

Electrical and Instrumentation

- In charge of electrical trouble shooting on Industrial machinery.
- Installing and maintaining VFD and servo drives
- Working with engineering on installation of sensors
- Troubleshooting preprocess equipment to include robots and conveyors
- Electrical training for safety and trouble shooting to maintenance staff

Seam Group 2019-2022

Electrical Safety Instructor

- Taught NFPA 70E Electrical Safety, Motor Controls/ Basic Electrical Fundamentals, Lock Out/Tag Out
- Onsite audits and facility walk-throughs for safety
- Developed course content based on customers needs

Delta Electric 2004-2006

Estimator/Sales

- Sold preventative maintenance contracts with TEG
- Estimated jobs and taught NFPA 70E Safety to electricians and industrial customers

National Guard 1988-1997

*Generation Mechanic Power Specialist
Fort Benning, GA*

- Worked on generators 100K and larger for primary MOS and performed large wheel mechanics as a secondary

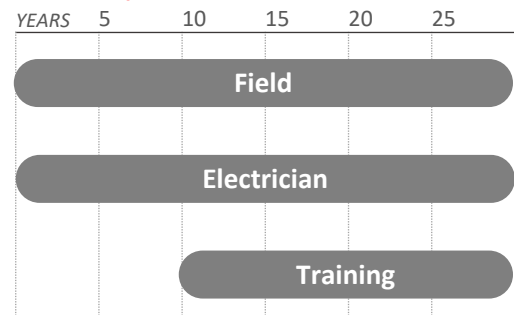

Snapshot

Focus

TRAINING

- Low Voltage
- High Voltage

Career Experience Timeline

Education & Certifications

IBEW Local 665, Lansing, MI

Electrical Apprenticeship

Licenses & Professional Memberships

Licensed Electrician, Michigan

National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), Member